

The English Arts Chorale and Orchestra present:

Mendelssohn's fiery

ELIJAH

with a hint of theatre

Drama from history:
melodies from heaven

Mark Saberton as Elijah

Katherine Gregory as the Widow of Zarephath

Ruby Bak as the Angel

James Micklethwaite as Obadiah

The English Arts Chorale as The People

The English Arts Orchestra

'Hint of Theatre' by Tim Welton & Sidonie Welton

Leslie Olive, Producer and Conductor

Saturday 3 October 2026 at 7.00pm

St Mary's Church, Chart Lane, Reigate RH2 7RN

Tickets from £22 at www.englisharts.org/tickets

Under 25 and full time students: £9

Carer for disabled person: free

English Arts Chorale

The English Arts Chorale is Registered Charity No.1153599

The English Arts Chorale and Orchestra present:

A story in music

of life and death
renewal from despair
victory from defeat

Mendelssohn's fiery

ELIJAH

with a hint of theatre

Felix Mendelssohn's dramatic musical masterpiece takes us inside the life of Elijah, a commanding prophetic figure believed to have flourished around 900BC.

Living in a world of violence between conflicting belief systems in which catastrophic climate change has been brought about by human activity, it's one man against a hostile state.

Against huge odds, Elijah's Herculean efforts, however triumphant, seem eventually to have come to nothing, and in despair, Elijah asks his God to "take away my life".

But that is not to be. There is much more to be done, and after time for recovery and renewal, "then did Elijah the Prophet break forth like a fire!"

Tickets from £22 at www.englisharts.org/tickets

Under 25 and full time students: £9

Carer for disabled person: free

